

Targeted Nutritional Support for

- Bone density and soundness in performance horses
- Bone and cartilage formation in growing horses

BONAFIDE®

Sport horse producers understand the investment of time, money and expertise required to train a horse to achieve its potential.

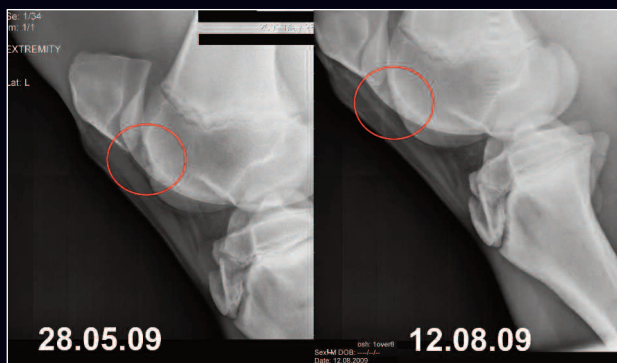

Astute trainers and owners do all they can to nurture the growth and development of their horses to avoid issues that too often impact on their sale value or competitive careers.

Sadly, bone issues such as OCD or DOD are too often not discovered in a young sport horse until all the hard work has been done or pre-sale x-rays are taken.

Bonafide's® active ingredient Quinaquanone® is the only proven and patented Vitamin K1 and K2 product that has been shown in trials to increase bone density in horses and have a beneficial effect on OCDs and bone lesions.
